The Honorable Henry M. Paulson, Jr.
Secretary
U. S. Department of the Treasury
1500 Pennsylvania Avenue, N.W.
Washington, D. C. 20220

Dear Secretary Paulson:

As Chairman and Ranking Member of the Committee on Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs, we have a strong commitment to promoting capital formation and protecting investors in America's securities markets.

Recently, S. 1624 was introduced in the Senate "to amend the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 to provide that the exception from the treatment of publicly traded partnerships as corporations for partnerships with passive-type income shall not apply to partnerships directly or indirectly deriving income from providing investment adviser and related asset management services."

This legislation has raised many questions from interested parties about its impact on the capital markets if it were to be enacted into law. Pursuant to our oversight of these markets, we are seeking more information about such impact.

We would appreciate your providing us with an analysis of this legislation. Specifically, we ask you to examine its likely impact on the nation's capital markets, including the potential effects on capital formation, investor protection and other relevant issues. In addition, we request quantitative and qualitative data on the universe of publicly traded partnerships, including the numbers of such firms and their business activities, and data on the partnerships that such legislation would affect.

Thank you for your immediate attention to this request.

Sincerely,

Christopher J. Dodd
Chairman
